About our Honoree

CHARLES DEVERNA

Over the past few years, EPIC Long Island has come to understand and appreciate at least two of Charlie DeVerna's passions in life: his son, Conor and golf. How we came to know this is simple: when Conor moved into one of our group residences, Charlie became a regular visitor at the home and the agency, and an enthusiastic participant in our annual golf outing. In the process of becoming an integral part of the EPIC Long Island family, he has become a trusted advocate for parents and staff, a much-valued member of our golf committee and a great friend to EPIC Long Island.

It is with joy and gratitude that we honor Charlie DeVerna at the 2018 Annual Don Luneburg Golf and Tennis Classic with our first-ever EPIC Champion Award.

Charlie has many other passions, including his wife Cindy Craft, fishing, spending time on Shelter Island and his family. He enjoys visiting his friends and favorite haunts throughout Manhattan and across the country. And, of course, he loves Conor and golf.

Charlie is retired from the financial services industry. He was Founding President of Ascent Funding Organization, which started the Ascent School for Individuals with Autism.

LONG ISLAND

Extraordinary People In Care

www.epicli.org

For more than 60 years, EPIC Long Island has been serving communities across Nassau and Suffolk counties with a variety of programs that enrich the lives of individuals affected by epilepsy, developmental disabilities and emotional challenges. Our goal is to help each individual to achieve their highest potential.

We invite you to underwrite a portion of this year's golf and tennis classic to help us further our mission.
